In a recent article published by Inc42 Media titled “Inside The Messy Split Between Anupam Mittal’s Shaadi.com And WestBridge”, Our Associate Partner Aaushi Shah Doshi shares her expert insights.

Aaushi Opined “ Singapore law is governed by the ICC (International Chamber of Commerce), and the arbitration agreement was subject to Singapore law. The parties have not only chosen to arbitrate, but have also chosen “to arbitrate under Singapore law in Singapore” in accordance with the rules of the International Chamber of Commerce (“ICC”)

Therefore, it was within the jurisdiction of the Singapore court to consider claims of oppression through arbitration.

The Singapore court adopted a broader interpretation. While this broader interpretation was not expressly consented to, the arbitration clause itself serves as express consent, establishing Singapore as the jurisdiction according to the terms of the agreement. “
